To Whom It May Concern:

I am applying for the position of tenure-track assistant professor in your department. I received my Ph.D. in computer science from Stanford University in September 2007. My Ph.D. adviser was Professor David L. Dill. Since October 2007, I have been working with Professor Martin C. Rinard at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a Research Scientist. My general areas of interest include software engineering, constraint solvers, systems, security, program analysis, formal methods and logic.

Enclosed is my curriculum vitae (including a list of publications), contact information for my references, my research and teaching statements. These materials and all my publications are available at:

<http://people.csail.mit.edu/vganesh>

Kindly let me know if there are any other documents or information that you may need in order to process my application.

Thank you for your consideration. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Vijay Ganesh
Research Scientist
